TRUTH OR FAKE
SPECIAL EDITION

France's Press and Media in Schools Week

Available from Monday March 18th on France 24 websites and social media

Report format: 5 minutes

Presented by: Catalina Marchant de Abreu (En), Anthony Saint-Léger and Maya Yataghène (Fr) and Dana Mansour (Ar)

For France's Press and Media in Schools Week 2024, in which France Médias Monde is an official partner, the France 24's Observers team has produced a new annual edition of Truth or Fake. The program, which disentangles fact from fiction, will be provided in three languages: French, English and Arabic.

In addition to being published on France 24's website and social media the 2024 edition will be used in French schools in partnership with CLEMI, France's Education Centre for Media and Information, and AEFÉ (the Agency for French Education Abroad) to raise awareness among students and teachers of techniques to debunk fake news and propaganda using specific examples.

In 2024, Truth or Fake consists of educational videos based on concrete examples of disinformation using an interactive touch screen.

Contents:

- US presidential election: how to spot "audio deepfakes"
- Pallywood: a young Gazan on TikTok targeted by pro-Israeli accounts
- Zelensky's yachts and jewels: the vast Russian disinformation machine

Note: Every day, France 24's Observers team publishes image checks in the team's "Debunked" section, exposing fake news and distorted images on social media.

Every evening, the false images spotted by France 24's Observers team are presented on air by Catalina Marchant de Abreu (at 8.45 pm* in English) and Anthony Saint-Léger (at 9.20 pm* French) and Dana Mansour (at 10.25 pm* in Arabic). Truth or Fake is also available on the Observers' digital platforms: website, X.

France Médias Monde's channels (RFI, France 24 and Monte Carlo Doualiya) provide news based on facts, broadcast worldwide in French and 20 other languages. Thanks to France 24's Observers team, the channels also have long-standing expertise in the fight against fake news and are mobilised all year long to offer shows that allow viewers and listeners to identify and deconstruct all forms of information manipulation.

France Médias Monde's network of fact-checking journalists work to share this mission on a different format (television, radio and digital platforms) and on major themes (Africa, Europe, education, youth, politics, international information...). This internal organisation focused on the fight against disinformation ensures consistency and complementarity of offers and allows the group to contribute to national and international initiatives that mobilise major media outlets together.

France Médias Monde participates in "Vrai ou Fake", a platform on franceinfo website, the French public national broadcaster, to bring together various programs in the French public broadcasting system.
